Liquid glitter phone cases recall

On January 14, 2021, our fulfillment partner became aware of the potential safety hazards of the Liquid glitter phone cases and discontinued this product.

The product contains a liquid and glitter that are floating in the plastic case, and are not meant to come into contact with skin or the digestive system. If the phone case has been accidentally broken, there is a risk that the liquid contained inside the product may leak and come into contact with the skin which can cause skin irritation and burns. In case the liquid is swallowed or enters airways, it could potentially lead to serious injury requiring immediate medical attention.

Based on this information, our fulfillment partners have recalled all variants of this product.

Here's what you should do:

- Stop using this phone case and dispose of it by throwing it in the trash
